ABSTRACT

Information is presented about students in South Carolina public schools by grade. Information on sex and racial/ethnic composition is provided for each school, and each is characterized as rural, urban, or mixed. Student average daily membership counts are rounded at the school level. Of the 1,109 South Carolina schools, 482 are considered rural, 341 urban, and 286 mixed. The majority of students (434,703) are in elementary schools, with 194,413 in secondary schools and 915 in combined schools. Minorities constitute 43% of South Carolina students, and females make up 48.6% of the student body. South Carolina's schools vary in size from 2,580 to 14 pupils. There are nearly 37,000 full-time equivalent teachers in the state's schools. The information is presented in six tables. A glossary is provided. (Contains 5 references.) (SLD)

The sex and racial/ethnic composition of students in each school is provided for those interested in preparing studies concerning these areas. Additionally, each school attendance description is provided in terms of rural, urban, or mixed.
